

International

With roots going back for over 120 years, Walker Morris is one of the leading general law firms in the UK with a first class international reputation. We are committed to supporting our clients with the best possible English law advice and to working with our trusted global network of leading law firms to ensure you achieve your international goals.

Our approach successfully brings together lawyers who are regularly dealing with international commercial issues combined with many years' experience of advising global operations headquartered in the US, Far East and Asia as their European Counsel.

"...quality of service that makes it clear that they value your business. The speed and accuracy of their actions and advice save money and are enormously helpful in the decision-making process." - Chambers

HOW WE CAN HELP

Project managing complex transactions

Using our international project management experience as well as contacts in our network of overseas law firms, we led the legal advice required to enable our client – a US quoted company – to complete successfully the acquisition of a UK headquartered group of companies with operations in China, Singapore, United States, France and Holland.

Project managing and coordinating multi-jurisdictional advice for a leading global engineering client in relation to a major product recall.

"For several years Walker Morris has assisted the Brand Protection team at Jemella on the clearance and protection of trade marks and designs and in the management of our worldwide anti infringement strategy. Understandably, Jemella places great store on its renowned lifestyle ghd brand and other IP assets. Walker Morris has the knowledge, resources and flexibility to adapt to Jemella's rapidly evolving and growing business." – Jemella

Achieving results

Supporting Jemella/ghd in managing its international brand and developing its worldwide anti-infringement programme. This included obtaining a successful freezing order through the Hong Kong Courts against defendants based in the People's Republic of China.

"The 'technically proficient' and 'strategic' practice has significant 'depth of knowledge' in trade mark infringement and patent litigation" – Legal 500

Supporting business growth

Advising NASDAQ listed EZCorp, Inc. to significantly expand its online consumer lending strategy in the UK through the acquisition of "Cash Genie", a leading provider on the significant expansion of its online loans in the UK.

"Walker Morris is an impressive firm. We can't convey enough what a great job the Walker Morris team did on this project" – EZCorp, Inc.

Supporting you as a trusted adviser

Acting for a US based company alongside its US lawyers in injunctive action and a damages claim against a former employee where the interaction of US State law and English law was pivotal to the success of the action.

“The team at Walker Morris ‘understands the value of client relationships’, and is noted for the ‘quality of its work’” – Legal 500
